Wild Wing Cafe, the destination for “hot wings, cold beer and good times,” announced that it will open a new location in the popular shopping center Magnolia Park. This marks its second location in Greenville, South Carolina, and its fourth in the Upstate. Located at 1025 Woodruff Road, Suite K04 the restaurant is planned to open on April 21.

“Greenville has long been home to Wild Wing Cafe. Magnolia Park is a great fit for our brand because of the great people in and around the area,” says Tom Lewison, chief executive officer at Wild Wing Cafe. “We knew this would be a natural fit for our next Greenville location, and we’re pleased to be opening another restaurant in the growing Upstate market. We look forward to creating more good times with our 33 made-from-scratch wing sauces and our great local beer selection. That combined with our live and local entertainment on stage regularly will provide an experience like none other.”

The new space, approximately 7,000 square feet, will employ 140 people and boast seven massive projection TVs, as well as more than 30 flat-screen TVs throughout the restaurant. The menu will encompass all of Wild Wing Cafe’s traditional offerings as well as fan favorites, including fresh, hormone-free chicken wings, hand-breaded nuggets, 100 percent Angus burgers and awesome salads.

A series of events are planned for their Grand Opening Weekend, which takes place on April 21.

Having recently moved its headquarters to Charlotte, North Carolina, Wild Wing Cafe is expecting to open up to 10 new restaurants this year.
